HI NEWCOMER!

We're mighty glad that you've realized your dream of coming to college. And naturally we're especially pleased that you have chosen Seattle Pacific.

We "old" students want to do everything we can to make you feel at home. If you need any help, please don't hesitate to speak up.

For our part, we're depending on you to help uphold SPC's traditions and make this the college's greatest year yet.

SPC'S HIGH TRADITIONS...

began way back in 1891 with a band of Christian pioneers whose vision, prayer, and labor made our school possible. They believed that thorough scholarship and Christ-centered faith go hand in hand in building useful Christian lives.

SPC students since then have aimed to conduct themselves as Christians, not from a sense of duty or merely to comply with a set of rules, but as a natural expression of their love for Christ and His kingdom.
The SPC "Hi" is part of the college's tradition of friendliness. It's the custom for students to say a cheerful "Hi" to everyone they meet on the campus, whether they've been formally introduced or not.

Chapel and Vesper services give expression to the friendly, Christian SPC spirit, as we all meet together for programs of inspiration, interest, and instruction.

Gay and inspiring social activities are part of the SPC tradition, and we all have fun as we pitch in to make each of them a success. It's our custom to open or close each affair with prayer and to keep the entire program in harmony with that practice.

Among the traditional annual social affairs are:
- The Lincoln Beach Outing, during opening week.
- The semiformal Faculty Reception for New Students, the following Friday.
- The All-College Banquet, the most important social function of the year.
- Open House, when dorm students invite their friends to visit the campus.
- The Spring Festival, when we show off the work of the college and honor the May Queen.

At the Ivy-Cutting Ceremony, each senior receives a sprig of SPC ivy to plant at his home as a symbol of the college's abiding influence in future years.

SPC's standards of conduct might be termed a tradition. The standards as outlined in the catalog or posted in the dormitories make possible the selective student body of which we're proud to be a part. We registered with the understanding that we are in sympathy with the college's high standards, and keep the rules of the game in loyalty to our pledged word.
COLLEGE SERVICES

GUIDANCE

No doubt the tests poured upon the unsuspecting freshman become a little painful and may seem a bit irrelevant. But the more our counsellors know about our backgrounds, abilities, personalities, preferences (and weaknesses, if any), the more efficiently they can give us guidance.

If you are in doubt about your vocational future, be sure to talk with your advisor or Dr. Ashton, director of guidance. Additional tests, such as the vocational interests test, study-habits inventory, and personality and preference tests, are available for the asking. They help you to "know yourself" and to plan your future more intelligently. Also helpful are the books on the "guidance shelf," the top shelf just left of the library door.

We have found that the faculty members are our friends. They are always ready to listen to our problems—academic, financial, physical, or spiritual—and their counsel, and encouragement to trust God for guidance, are often just what we need. Don't hesitate to consult them. They will never betray your confidence.

LOST AND FOUND

If you lose your head, count to ten. If it's your fountain pen, purse, or psych. notes, check with the Main Office. And if you find something of any value, you'll be a friend in need if you turn it in.

THE LIBRARY—

is for your use, to check out books or as a good place to study. But if you want to talk to your friends, head for the snack bar. After all, cokes are only a nickel.

Library hours are:

Days:
- Mon. through Fri. ... 7:50 to 5:00
- Saturday ... 9:00 to 12:00

Evenings:
- Mon. Tues. Thur. Sat. 7:00 to 9:45
- Wednesday ... 8:00 to 9:45

If you don't find the book or periodical you want, or aren't sure about the system, be sure to check with Miss Bursell or one of her assistants.

Most books may be kept out for two weeks and may be renewed. Magazines, other than the latest issue, circulate for one week. Books "on reserve" are checked out for one hour, or may be taken out overnight at 4:00 and are then due back the following morning at 8:00.
Fines are one cent a day for overdue books and periodicals and five cents each hour for overdue reserve books.

THE DINING HALL

is open to both dormitory and off-campus students. It is located on the ground floor of Watson Hall. Meal hours are:

Daily:
- Breakfast: 6:45 to 7:30
- Lunch: 11:30 to 12:30
- Dinner: 5:00 to 6:00

Sunday:
- Breakfast: 7:30 to 8:15
- Dinner: 12:30 to 1:30
- Supper: 5:15 to 6:00

See the Main Office for meal tickets. We may invite guests and pay for their meals with tickets, up to a limit of 12 in any one quarter. When bringing guests for Sunday dinner, an extra 25¢ is charged.

We're expected to come to the dining hall appropriately dressed. This doesn't mean cut-away and striped pants, but thumbs are down on T-shirts and sweatshirts.

Wednesday is "dress-up" night. It's the night for Vespers and we're expected to come to dinner in Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes.

College standards require a moderate amount of decorum during meals. If you want to cut up, sign up for Zoo1 101.

THE SNACK BAR AND REC. ROOM

in Tiffany Hall basement, and the lounge on the floor above, are good places to relax and refresh one's self before getting back to Plato or Plutonium.

THE BOOKSTORE

is also located in Tiffany basement. It carries all required texts and other academic impediments, plus stationery, SPC pennants, souvenirs, and such.
THE LAUNDRY—
on Tiffany's first floor is equipped with Bendix washers and dryers. There you can wash a tub full of clothes for two bits.

LOCKERS—are available for off-campus students. See the Main Office a few days after registration.

AT THE INFIRMARY—
in the Health Education Building graduate nurses minister to your aches and pains. If you're too ill to leave your room, be sure to have someone notify the infirmary. There's no extra fee for routine treatment, but a doctor's care and hospitalization are at the student's expense.

THE STUDENT POSTOFFICE—is in Peterson Hall basement. You will be assigned a mailbox to share with at least one other student. Here you can also mail your letters and buy stamps. Check the notice at the window for postoffice hours.

THE BULLETIN BOARD—
in Peterson basement is available for student use, subject to the posted rules. Posters may be placed on dormitory and snack-bar bulletin boards with permission of the responsible persons. Posters and other notices should not be posted elsewhere without Student Council permission.

DATING BUREAU
We don't have one. If you want a date, just ask her.

OTHER INFORMATION
If it's not in the catalog, inquire at the information booth on Peterson first floor or at the Main Office.
EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Don’t be misled by those who advise you “not to let your studies interfere with your education.” Studies must come first, or some day we’ll be sorry.

A high academic standing will help us in many ways in future years. Here they are a requirement for such awards as listing in Who’s Who Among Students and the silver key of Alpha Kappa Sigma, highest award granted SPC’s graduating seniors.

On the other hand, extracurricular activities are an important part of a college education—in training received, friendships gained, and the worthwhile contributions we can make to the lives of our fellow students.

THE AWARDS PROGRAM—

aims to stimulate participation in out-of-classroom activities by every student through SPC letter-awards.

Points may be earned in intramural athletics, forensics, music, religious service, publications, and student-body affairs.

"Old English" style letters go to students who have accumulated 150 points. An SPC sweater is awarded for 850 points, 200 being required in the current year. A blanket is awarded for a cumulative total of 1200 points.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS

MEMBERSHIP IN ASSPC—is automatically obtained by all students when they register, so welcome to our membership!

OFFICERS—

are elected near the close of the previous school year.

Officers for 1951-52 are:

Ed Haslam . . . . . . . President
Marilyn Field . . . . Vice President
Jackie Wright . . . . Secretary
Marlin Olson . . . . . . . Treasurer
Johnny Beare . . . . Yell King

FIVE DEPARTMENTAL DIRECTORS—

appointed by the ASSPC president, are immediately responsible for conduct of student-body activities. They are: religion director, athletic director, social director, forensic director, and publicity director.

STUDENT COUNCIL—
is the ASSPC governing body. It decides policies and budgets finances for the students. Although only council members have a vote, all of you are encouraged to attend council meetings and express your views.

Members of the council are: the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, the five departmental directors, the Falcon business manager, Tawahsi editor, the four class presidents, three elected representatives from each class, and a faculty advisor.

THE FOUR CLASSES—also have their organizations, headed by a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, three representatives to Student Council, and men's and women's athletic directors. The class nominates two faculty members for appointment as advisor, from which the president of the college selects one to work with the class during the year.

Class outings and parties are held on certain evenings designated by Student Council. The class plans its activities in consultation with its advisor. Social functions must be approved by the faculty social committee. See its chairman for petition blanks.

Remember that social affairs which cannot be opened or closed with prayer are out of harmony with the ideals of our college.

Class duties. Class presidents are responsible for seeing that their classes perform the duties traditionally required of the classes.

Freshmen. The freshmen learn as much as they can about the ideals and traditions of the college. They memorize the college song right away.

The freshmen have profound reverence for the sophomores and render them scrupulous obedience—anyway, during freshman initiation.

During spring quarter, they sponsor a party in honor of the sophomores. The sophomores see that the incoming freshmen faithfully carry on their part of college traditions.

The sophomores are responsible for clean-up and transportation for the Lincoln Beach outing during opening week.

The sophomores conduct the initiation ceremonies for the freshmen and entertain them at a welcome party in fall quarter.

The sophomores arrange for the two meals served on the boat trip during commencement week.

Juniors. The juniors plan and serve the meal for the Lincoln Beach outing during opening week.

When the seniors are absent on their “skip,” the juniors occupy their seats in chapel and sponsor the chapel service for that day.

The juniors make the ivy chain for the ivy-cutting ceremony and decorate the auditorium for commencement exercises.

Seniors. The seniors present the program at the Lincoln Beach outing.

They are hosts to the juniors at a party during autumn quarter.

They assist the faculty in arranging the various programs of commencement week.
RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

JOY IN WORSHIP—
is found on the campus of SPC, where religion is more than mere formality, custom or regulation.

In the rush of college activities, the student finds a regular period of private devotion each day the most essential part of his Christian life.

The daily chapel service helps each student look to Christ as the center of his daily life.

Among the opportunities for finding and expressing the Christian life is the Wednesday vespers service.

A strong evangelistic spirit is present on the campus throughout the year. In the autumn and again in the spring a series of special evangelistic services is held in connection with the daily chapel service, in an effort to assist students in finding a deeper spiritual life.

At the all-college prayer service held each Tuesday at 12:30, students thank God for His blessing and present to Him their needs.

SPC students attend the Sunday School and Church of their choice on Sunday. The college church offers a warm welcome to all.

WORK IN CHURCHES

Many calls come to the School of Religion and the School of Music for Sunday School teachers, song leaders, choir members, musicians, and youth leaders. If you wish to contribute in any of these fields, be sure to see Dr. Cochrane or Prof. Schoenhals.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE—
await us all in the activities of the Foreign Missions Fellowship, Young People's Missionary Society, the Watchmen, prayer bands, and gospel teams. The leaders of these groups will welcome your support.

FISHER MEMORIAL PRAYER CHAPEL—between the President’s office and P-108, answers the need for a quiet place to which we may withdraw during busy college days for prayer.

No organized services are conducted in this chapel, but all of us are invited to drop in at any time to gain strength through prayer and meditating upon God’s Word.
FORENSICS

SPC has traditionally ranked high among Northwest colleges in forensic activities. You will find fun and worthwhile experience in intercollegiate and intramural contests in debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, interpretive reading, after-dinner speaking, forums, and round-table discussion.

All students are urged to turn out and seek places on the teams. See Prof. Rosser. SPC sends representatives to national tournaments as well as to regional tournaments in Washington and other Western states. All in all, our forensic teams have turned out to be the "travelingest" of all teams representing SPC.

Intramural speech contests are open to all and provide an open gateway to participation in intercollegiate contests. The SPC chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic honorary, supervises forensic activities on the campus. Students doing outstanding work in forensics during the year are recommended for the honor of Pi Kappa Delta membership.

PUBLICATIONS

Practical journalism and business experience may be gained on SPC's two student publications—The Falcon, weekly paper, and The Tawahsi, college yearbook.

The editors for the coming year are:

The Falcon . . . . . . . Frank Green
The Tawahsi . . . . . . Wes Lingren

The Falcon tries not only to record campus events but also student opinion on matters of college interest. It needs reporters, feature writers, proofreaders, typists, and business staff personnel. If you would like to serve on the paper, be sure to get in touch with the editor as soon as possible.

The Tawahsi is treasured by every SPC student as a diary in word and picture of the year's activities. Although it comes out in June, work begins early. If you are interested in writing, photography, art, advertising, or other work on the yearbook, please contact the editor right away.
MUSIC
Music for pleasure, careers, and Christian service is offered all of us here at SPC. Everyone has opportunity to try out for the various vocal and instrumental groups.

ORATORIO SOCIETY—is the college’s largest musical group, its numbers varying from 100 to 175. Membership is open to all students.
Two concerts, in December and June, are given each year. Members meet one evening each week and earn a half-hour credit per quarter.

THE A CAPELLA CHOIR—has a limited membership, chosen through tryouts the first week of fall quarter. If you’re interested, be sure to see Prof. Schoenhals for a chance to display your vocal wires.
The choir meets three afternoons a week and its members receive one academic credit per quarter.
They thoroughly enjoy the extended tour made each year, usually between winter and spring quarters.

THE CHAMBER ORCHESTRA—prevents several concerts each year. Practice sessions are held twice a week. Members receive one academic credit per quarter.

MEN’S AND WOMEN’S GLEE CLUBS—present repertoires of both sacred and secular songs. Men should see Mr. Acton for tryouts; women should see Miss Leighton. Glee club members meet twice a week and receive one credit per quarter.

THE COLLEGE BAND—
also presents several concerts during the year, besides supplying music at basketball games, student rallies, and other events. All you instrumentalists are urged to see the director right away. Band members receive one credit per quarter.

THE MADRIGALS—are a singing group specializing in music of the Shakespearean era. Membership is open to all interested singers, and academic credit is given.

QUARTETS AND TRIOS—are outstanding among the college’s music groups. Tryouts for the “first-string” Victory Male Quartet are held early in fall quarter. The “Victory Boys” have earned a fine reputation in the Northwest through their renditions of sacred songs.
A “Clarion Male Quartet” and women’s trios and quartets will also be organized again this year. For tryouts, see Mr. Schoenhals.

RECITALS—
are given each year by vocal, piano, and organ students. We’re all invited to come and bring our friends.
ORGANIZATIONS

ALEXANDRIANS— are the men who live in Alexander Hall and housing units for single men.

ART CLUB—
gives art enthusiasts opportunity to express their interest—sponsoring exhibits, visiting art museums, listening to lectures, and contributing their talent to student projects.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS—of which all women students are members, endeavor to develop a closer friendship between on-campus and off-campus women students.

The organization sponsors a varied program, including such events as the autumn tea, the slumber party, the annual Tolo, and "bester-sister week," as well as programs for the girls at the Martha Washington Home.

CERCLE FRANCAIS
is the French Club, famous for its “fetes” at the "beau chateau" of "Madame Kendrick." It is open to all students interested in French language and culture.

CHI LAMBDA NU—
is the Radio Club. Using government-surplus equipment, its members have made radio contacts with many faraway places. The club is affiliated with the Washington Amateur Relay System.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN—is the Deutsch way of saying German Club. It is open to students of German and all others interested in German language and literature.

ETA PI ALPHA—
is the SPC chapter of the Future Teachers of America and is one of the largest organizations on the campus. It aims to promote a professional spirit and Christian fellowship among students preparing to teach.

EUTERPEANS—is the fancy name for the Music Club. It is open to all students interested in music, and really does a great deal to bring us entertaining musical programs.

FALCONETTES—are members of the women’s service honorary. They are selected on the basis of Christian character, scholarship, and activities, from among upper-class women.

FOREIGN MISSIONS FELLOWSHIP—
affiliated with the I.V.C.F., invites into membership all students concerned about Christian service. FMF presents the needs of the mission fields to the student body and outside groups. Its gospel teams tell the message of Christ, and its prayer bands study and pray for the needs of the mission fields.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB—is open to all students interested in the use of hand and power tools to create objects of usefulness and beauty.
INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB—is concerned about national as well as international affairs. Its debates, round-table discussions, and addresses by competent speakers do much to inform us about world problems. All students are invited to join.

NURSES CLUB—
welcomes all students preparing for nursing. Besides professional interests, the future nurses sponsor social activities that prove a nurse's life is not all drudgery.

ORDER OF THE S—composed of athletic letterwinners, is a tower of strength behind the athletic program of the college.
Its retreats and other activities prove the maxim,
"Christian fellows, Christian fellowship."

PI KAPPA DELTA—is the forensic honorary. Members are selected on the basis of outstanding accomplishment in speech activities.

ROYAL ORDER OF THE FLYING DUTCHMAN—promotes constructive criticism through public airing of student problems. Its membership is restricted to men of royal Dutch blood who have earned their wings.

SCIOS—
("Searchers") is the Science Club. Its members meet to hear outstanding speakers or to contribute their scientific know-how to solution of campus problems.

SIGMA TAU DELTA—
the English Club, aims to stimulate interest in good literature, especially English classics. The club sponsors presentations by dramatic artists and its monthly meetings feature outside speakers as well as campus talent.

SPANISH CLUB—
endeavors to promote knowledge of and friendship with our Spanish-speaking neighbors. Its membership is open to all students.

THETA BETA—
is the home economics club, open to women students interested in a better understanding of the fine points of social etiquette and homemaking.

THE WATCHMEN—are the students preparing for the ministry. Outstanding among their organization's activities are the Friday noon "fast-focus" prayer service, the work of its gospel teams, and sponsorship of the Bible-reading program for all the students.

Y. P. M. S CLUB—is composed of Free Methodist students. It promotes the ideals of Free Methodism, aims to equip its memers better to serve the youth of their denomination, and serves as a link with their home churches.
MEN'S ATHLETICS

CHRISTIAN SPORTSMANSHIP— building of healthy bodies, and providing the thrill of competition are the aims of the SPC athletic program. Although competition is keen for places on the intercollegiate teams, there is a place for everyone on intramural squads. Coach McNeese is especially anxious to get everyone to participate. If you aren't playing, turn out and root for the college or your class team—win or lose, you'll be proud of the fellows as they show that the spirit of Christ can be displayed under the stress of competition as well as in the sacred atmosphere of religious services.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Varsity basketball is the big sport interest from November to March. A full schedule of games with other Northwest colleges is being arranged. We're all looking forward eagerly to completion of the long-awaited gym, when home games can be played on our own campus.

Frosh basketball gives opportunity for intercollegiate competition to freshmen and sophomores who do not make the varsity. Frosh games are usually played as preliminaries to the varsity contests.

Baseball has been the principal sport during spring quarter. Home games are generally played at Woodland Park or Magnolia Bluff.

Track received a big boost last year with the addition to the faculty of Ken Foreman. Our team was short-handed, but the men who did participate in intercollegiate meets did surprisingly well.

Tennis was made a major sport recently. The team is selected on the basis of showings in the intramural tournaments.

Golf, although not an officially-sponsored sport, has given its enthusiasts opportunity to compete on the intercollegiate level.

MEN'S INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

Intramural athletics are on a class basis, each of the four classes fielding one or more teams. Athletic directors elected by the class memberships have charge of organizing the teams. Class tournaments are arranged in touch football, basketball, and softball. In the golf and tennis tournaments, players compete on an individual basis.
WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

Our college provides a full program of athletics for all women who desire to take part. Besides the intramural team sports, there are individual competitions in such sports as tennis, ping pong, archery, and badminton.

No scholarship standard is set for participation in women's sports, but a grade score of 1.75 must have been earned the previous quarter if points are to be earned toward activity letters.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

In the intramural tournaments, each class is represented by one or more teams, organized under the leadership of the women's athletic directors named by the various classes.

The intramural program includes tournaments in basketball, volleyball, and softball.

All women students are not only invited but urged to participate.

Occasionally SPC women's teams are organized to compete with outside groups on an informal basis.

ALMA MATER

Midst the mountains of the Westland
Near the rolling sea,
Beacon light that shineth ever
Is our SPC.

CHORUS

Join the chorus, waft it onward
Until all shall see,
Standing true amid all others
Dear old SPC.

Light thou sheddest on our pathway,
Lessons learned of thee—
In our hearts we'll ever cherish Thoughts of SPC.

Alma Mater, kindest mother,
May the children be Faithful sons and truest daughters
Of old SPC.

PEP SONG

Come on team, we have a game to win,
We have our colors to defend;
Grab the ball, come on, let's show them all
We'll fight this game right to the end.

Maroon and White, let's go come on, defeat the foe,
As we go on to victory;
We'll bring honor and all glory
To our SPC.
THE SPIRIT OF SPC

They cleared a spot in the wilderness,
Where sunset greets the sea;
They built a school with a prayer-driven soul,
And a vision for youth to be—
Founded on truth and holiness,
On love and loyalty;
While its students learn their glad hearts burn
With the spirit of SPC.

CHORUS

Echo it long, with a faith deep and strong,
From mighty Rainier to the turbulent sea:
"Youth facing life with a risen Christ"
"'Tis the spirit of SPC."

Though life's cold embers find us far
From SPC's bright scenes,
Our duties grim, we know in Him
Joys more than idle dreams;
We'll face the future unafraid,
Our heart and conscience free,
Giving God the praise for college days
And the spirit of SPC.
