Freshmen Are Expected to Carry This Handbook at All Times During the First Quarter, and to Know Its Contents.
Welcome, Frosh!

"Welcome Freshmen . . .

From the warm heart of our Alma Mater this greeting to all you Freshmen on this her golden jubilee year. S. P. C. with its traditions, social aims, and spiritual ideals will become a part of you as it is of us.

As members of the Associated Students your privileges entitle you to the enjoyment of multiple activities. Greet your fellow students with the "S.P.C. Hello" and enjoy the gravity of "applepolishing."

The privilege of living for Christ can reach newness in sacrifice and faithfulness this golden year. Be assured that your life will glorify Him and hold high the ideals of your Alma Mater, if you live as a Christian college student.

Yours sincerely,

BOB NEMYRE
President

A. S. S. P. C.
HISTORY OF SEATTLE PACIFIC COLLEGE

In 50 years, a small denominational academy in a hilly wilderness has become a leading Christian College on a beautiful campus, annually ministering to four hundred young people from a score of denominations. In 1891, a group of far-sighted men and women of the Free Methodist Church, willing to sacrifice in order to give their splendid vision reality, founded Seattle Seminary. Mr. B. Peterson gave part of his farm for the campus, and Mr. H. H. Pease gave $60,000 to build Men's Hall, which housed the whole school in its earlier years. When Rev. Alexander Beers came to be its first principal in 1893, he and Mrs. Beers had to pick their way to the campus through the trees and stumps of the tiny community of Ross, buried deep in the forest that surrounded the village of Seattle.

In 1915 the name of the school was changed to Seattle Pacific College, for the work of college level had been added to the high school curriculum in 1910. In 1936, the college department had so far superseded the high school work that the latter was discontinued entirely.

Three men have guided the development of S. P. C. since its rise from the barren hillside. Rev. Beers, who was president till 1916, saw completion of the Administration Building and Women's Hall. Dr. Orrin E. Tiffany, president till 1926, saw the school put on a sound financial foundation and the earlier debts eliminated. Since 1926, President C. Hoyt Watson has led the school to its present position of usefulness and service. The scholastic standing has been raised to a high level, an excellent faculty maintained, and the building program extended. The latest expansion has been the construction of the new classroom auditorium building to keep up with the forward march of "dear old S. P. C."

PURPOSE

The two essential goals of Seattle Pacific College are first, to help young people reach a high plane of effective Christian living, and second, at the same time to help them reach a high plane of useful scholarship.

MOTTOS

"Education-plus"
"Youth Facing Life With Christ."
Traditions Are—

those customs and codes of action which have meant so much to past and present generations of students that they are part of the personality of the school itself. Although S. P. C. traditions have not had time to become mellowed by the passing of many decades, there are a few vital traditions already well established, but which can be maintained only as they are honored by each new freshman class.

1. Vespers. Most delightful of all traditions on our campus is that of the student vespers service each Wednesday evening. This is the one distinctly religious all-college service of the week. It is traditionally an informal service in which group singing and personal testimony give great inspiration in the midst of the busy week. Regular attendance is expected of all students. And “dating” for vespers is not the custom.

2. The Boat Trip. The one all-school event which is distinctively an S. P. C. function is the annual Boat Trip on the last Friday of the spring quarter. About five hundred students, faculty members, alumni, and friends board a large ferry boat and spend the day cruising among the wooded islands of Puget Sound.

3. The S. P. C. “Hello.” It’s the custom for students to say a cheery “hello” to everyone they meet on the campus, whether they have been formally introduced or not.

4. The Song Fest. A recently introduced custom which promises to become an important part of school life is the inspirational get-together for song and testimony each Sunday night after church, in the recreation room.

5. The Rising Welcome in Chapel. When distinguished visitors are presented in chapel, it is traditional for the student body to arise in respect and greet them with hearty applause. This greeting is not given promiscuously to every speaker—for it may often be discomfiting to him—but is reserved for truly outstanding men. It is customary for students to await a signal from a faculty member on the platform before rising.

6. The Royal Order of the Flying Dutchman. When, at an A. S. S. P. C. business meeting, some heretofore sane student suddenly moves that the Pi Mu Gamma prexy be presented with a fur-lined flag-pole in appreciation of her services in exterminating the cotton-boll weevil of Afghanistan, don’t get excited.
The ensuing furious debate is not necessarily a sign that upperclassmen are candidates for the asylum—it just means that the mock parliamentary organization, "Royal Order of the Flying Dutchman," is holding an annual session.

OTHER ALL-COLLEGE EVENTS

1. The Faculty Reception for New Students. The official presentation of new students to each other and to the faculty takes place at the semi-formal reception held the first Friday night of the fall quarter in the parlour of Grace Tiffany Hall.

2. The All-School Hike. The first student sponsored affair of the year is the All-College "Hike"—via streetcar—to Lincoln Beach, on the second Friday afternoon and evening of the fall quarter.

3. The All-College Banquet is the most important semi-formal function of the year, usually held during the winter quarter.

4. Open House. Dormitories, classrooms, laboratories, and gymnasiums are all dressed in their best for the welcome scrutiny of friends of the college on one Friday night each year. Programs demonstrating work in the various academic departments are given in the "gym.

5. Field Day. The annual contest for victory in track and field events—usually at lower Woodland Park—followed by a picnic supper, take place late in the spring quarter.

6. Class Hikes. One Friday afternoon is set aside each spring quarter for the individual classes to make trips to some of the beautiful lakes near Seattle.

CLASS TRADITIONS

Freshmen

1. Freshmen carry the handbook and learn its contents—for which they are held responsible by the Sophs and upper classmen.

2. Freshmen learn the school song by heart and sing all three verses lustily when called upon to do so at early student assemblies.

3. The lowly Frosh have profound reverence for the high and mighty sophomore and tender them scrupulous obedience during Freshman initiation week.

4. During the spring quarter, the Freshman Class sponsors a party at which the sophomores are guests.
Sophomores

1. The Sophomore Class is immediately responsible to see that the incoming freshmen are faithful in carrying out their part of school tradition.

2. The Sophomore Class is responsible for arranging transportation for the All College Hike.

3. Sophomore conduct the initiation ceremonies for the Frosh at a welcome party for them early in the fall quarter.

4. To the Sophomore Class is entrusted the care of the S.P.C. letters on the campus lawn south of the administration building.

5. The Sophomores plan and supervise the two meals served on the Annual Boat Trip in June.

Juniors

1. Juniors are responsible for planning and serving the meal at the All-College Hike.

2. When the seniors are absent on their Skip Day trip, the juniors occupy the seats of honor in assembly and sponsor a memorial service for the departed seniors.

3. The juniors are hosts to the seniors at the semi-formal Junior-Senior Banquet in the spring. Juniors provide transportation for the seniors and present senior girls with corsages.

4. Juniors make the ivy chain for the ivy ceremony during Commencement Week.

5. Juniors decorate the auditorium for Commencement Exercises.

Seniors

1. The Senior Class is responsible for the program at the All-College Hike.

2. Seniors are hosts to the juniors at a party held during the fall quarter.

3. In the spring the seniors are absent from school for two days on their annual trip, which has traditionally been to Skagit.

4. During the spring quarter, the dignified seniors appear in chapel on several occasions attired in cap and gown. As a sign of reverence for their exalted station, all others stand at attention as the seniors march into the auditorium.

5. Seniors cooperate with the faculty in arranging the varied programs of Commencement Week.
Dormitory Traditions

1. Dormitory students sponsor an early morning Christmas party on the last day of the autumn quarter, at which time gifts are distributed by Santa Claus himself.

2. Each dormitory gives a party for members of the other house sometime during the year.

3. During the spring quarter, the Alexandrianas sponsor the Annual Stag Banquet in honor of unfortunate stags who have fallen victims of Cupid's piercing shafts.

Finding Joy in Worship

Religious life at S. P. C. is on a higher plane than mere formalities, rules, or regulations. Students of the type that attend this school appreciate the wholesome, happy, frank attitude they find here toward this important phase of campus life.

The Vesper Service on Wednesday night is one of the most important religious services of the week. Memory of its inspiring moments will be a joy in the years to come.
The more the college knows about your background, your previous training, your ability, your personality, the more efficiently it can help you. This impartial appraisal of your achievements to date will aid you in planning your educational and vocational future. It will show your strong points, and your weak points (if any).

The tests given near the close of the sophomore year will show how you are keeping up with college students of the same classification throughout the country.

Other guidance facilities are also available. One source of real help is the collection of books and pamphlets found on the Guidance Book Shelf, the top shelf just left of the library door. Here you will find suggestions on how to get a job, how to ask for a date, how to improve your own personality. Here you will find dependable books to help you with your religious problems.

If you are wondering regarding your fitness for a particular vocation, ask the Dean to give you a Vocational Interests Test. If you aren't getting A's in all your subjects, ask him for a Study Habits Inventory. If you honestly want to know where your personality needs improving, get him to give you a Personality Test.

Whatever your problem—mental, physical, or spiritual—remember that all the members of the faculty are ready and willing to help you to the limit of their ability. Don't hesitate to consult them. They will never betray your confidence.

If You Lose Your Dignity

If you lose your textbook or your check from home, or if you find something belonging to someone else, remember a LOST AND FOUND DEPARTMENT is maintained in the Recreation Room.

What If I Get Sick?

Well, for one thing, be thankful you are among friends. The college maintains a free clinic and dispensary service, where simple remedies may be obtained and a trained nurse consulted. In case the illness puts you to bed, and you are a dormitory student, the nurse will look after you and see that you get the proper food.

It is the responsibility of the room-mate, however, to report such cases of illness at once to the person in charge of the dormitory, to carry food from the kitchen, and to render such services as he would appreciate were the circumstances reversed.

Illness requiring a doctor's care or howpiralization is at the expense of the student.

Every Loyal Seattle Pacific Student

—demonstrates his loyalty by attending chapel daily.
—never misses Vesper Service if he can possibly attend.
—cooperates in every way possible with all special evangelistic efforts.
—appreciates it when other students are quiet in the library and is quiet there himself.
—conducts himself in such a way that no regulation regarding social life or dormitory life is necessary.
—cheerfully fulfills his obligation to his employer before looking after his own pleasure whether his work is on campus or off, and is never absent without first arranging with his employer.
—recognizes his opportunities to develop spiritually and regularly attends the Sunday School and Church of his choice.
—remembers that he cannot disregard study hour regulations without making it very difficult for fellow students who are trying to study.
—cooperates with campus officers and house mothers by being in his room by eight o'clock on study nights and eleven o'clock on social nights.
Welcome by...

PRESIDENT WATSON

Years and official duties are supposed by some to remove a college president beyond the possibility of companionship with students. Then, too, it is supposed his thoughts are so given over to the solution of great problems that the routine opening of a new school year seems but a passing incident.

Not so at Seattle Pacific. Your president has always enjoyed the companionship of students and today craves their fellowship more than ever. He enters upon each new year with a joy and spirit of adventure not unlike that of a first year student.

I am happy, therefore, to extend to each student a personal greeting. Welcome to S.P.C.—to its campus, to its school family, its delightful fellowship! Welcome also to my office. Come in any time and say Hello. Delightful memories of my association with students in past years is my assurance that the coming year will again be one of wonderful companionship.

This fellowship can reach its highest and best, however, only in the will of God. I pledge myself with each of you to keep God first in all the relationships and activities of S.P.C. during the coming year.

—C. HOYT WATSON

Welcome by...

DEAN MILLER

Welcome, new student! We are glad to have you on our campus to share with us the joys and responsibilities that accompany attendance at Seattle Pacific.

Before you have been here long you will detect a lifting spirit, a spirit that challenges to higher living and to the building of Christian character. Determine to make the most of this helpful atmosphere from the start. Line up with the religious program of the school at once. Choose as your intimate associates those who will be a help to your spiritual life. If you are a Christian, do not delay in letting your fellow know. Contribute your share toward maintaining the spiritual atmosphere of Seattle Pacific, with your example, your service, your prayers.

To that minority who are not yet Christians, may you quickly make the decision that will bring to you the maximum of satisfaction through the years, and enable you to make the most of your stay at Seattle Pacific.

CONCERNING RULES AND REGULATIONS,

Every Student Knows—

that when he registers in S. P. C. he is understood to be in sympathy with the purpose and spirit of the college, and has therefore read and agreed to have due regard for all regulations of the institution, as listed in the catalog.

CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES ARE IMPORTANT, TOO

What Is a "Quarter-Hour" of Work?

A quarter hour means one hour per week of lecture or recitation throughout a whole quarter. It represents an average of three hours a week of a student's time, including classroom work, laboratory, and outside preparation. For each quarter hour of work satisfactorily completed one credit is given toward graduation.
What About Grades?

The average number of grade points earned for each hour of work a student is carrying is called the "grade score." A grade score of at least 2.00 must be maintained if the student is to graduate, receive a teaching certificate, do practice teaching, or be eligible for varsity basketball or N.Y.A. work.

If Which Class Am I a Member?

For freshmen—students with less than 45 credits.
Sophomore—students with at least 45 credits and 90 grade points.
Junior—students with 90 credits and 180 grade points.
Senior—students with 135 credits and 270 grade points.

Honor to Whom Honor Is Due

Students who carry at least 12 hours of work and who maintain a grade score of at least 3.5 for a quarter or a year will earn "high honors" for that period. Those making a grade score between 3.0 and 3.5 are given "honors." Graduation honors are (a) "Cum laude"—grade score 3.0-3.5, (b) "Magna cum laude"—3.5-3.8, (c) "Summa cum laude"—above 3.8.
Alpha Kappa Sigma. Students making an outstanding contribution in upholding and promoting the standards and ideals of the College and showing enthusiasm for good scholarship, character development, and extracurricular activities may be eligible for election to the honor society, Alpha Kappa Sigma. Candidates are chosen each year for the bronze key, from the sophomore class, and for the sterling key, from the senior class.

And When You Use the Library

You will want to know about the library, for you will spend many hours there.

The collection consists of over 13,000 volumes, which are shelved in open stacks in the reading room. In addition, there are 185 current periodicals, four newspapers, and many pamphlets.

Books, with the exception of reference copies and those kept on the reserve shelf, may be borrowed for two weeks with the privilege of renewal. Magazines, other than the latest issue, circulate for one week. The Etude may be borrowed for one month. Reserve books are checked out for one hour. These may be taken out for overnight use at 4:00 p.m., and are due the following morning at 8:45.

Library fines are one cent a day for overdue books and periodicals, and twenty-five cents the first hour and five cents each hour thereafter for overdue reserve books. All library fines must be paid before quarterly grades are given out.

Library hours:

Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday 7:30 - 9:00

Wednesday 7:30 - 7:00

Friday 7:30 - 9:00

Saturday 9:00 - 12:00

All students are expected to cooperate in keeping the library a quiet place for study. Visiting and studying together must be done elsewhere.

Half of your troubles will be over if you can use the card catalog and the periodical indexes. If you are not familiar with these aids, ask the librarian or one of her assistants to explain them. Do not hesitate to ask if you cannot find the material you are looking for. The librarian or assistant at the desk will be more than glad to help you.

Attention, Car Owners—

When a student has received the Dean's permission to keep a car in the city, he is expected to observe campus parking regulations. The parking space on the campus by the tennis courts is reserved for faculty and visitors. Students park behind the Administration Building or on streets surrounding the campus.

We Introduce—

THE A. S. S. P. C. MEMBERSHIP

All students of the college are members of the Associated Students. Each one should be an intelligent member by making himself familiar with the constitution of the organization and by taking an active part in its affairs.

THE OFFICERS OF THE
A. S. S. P. C.

President — Robert Nemyre
Vice-President — Milo Morris
Secretary — Toshiko Senda
Treasurer — Norman McDonald
Falcon Editor — Evelyn Larson
Cascade Editor — Elmer Parsons
Yell King — Ray Montgomery

DEPARTMENTAL DIRECTORS

Four departmental directors, appointed by the president of the association, are immediately responsible for the functioning of the various activities of the student body. They are the Religious Director, the Athletic Director, the Social Director, and the Literary Director.

The Student Council—

The elected governing body of the student association. It shapes the policies, guides the activities, and budgets for the student body. All students are encouraged to take part in discussion of issues which are before the student council and to make themselves felt in student affairs. Members of the council are the president, vice-president, treasurer, the four directors of student activities, the Falcon business manager, the Cascade editor, three representatives from each of the four classes, and the faculty representative.

Student Projects—The Recreation Room

For several years the A.S.S.P.C. and other student organizations have been appropriating funds for the development of the Recreation Room in the basement of Grace Tiffany Hall. It has now been attractively furnished with comfortable chairs and sofas and equipped as a recreation room. Occasionally a few unthinking students have mistaken “Rec Room” for “Wreck Room,” until more responsible students have become highly concerned about the treatment our room has received. The Council and other thinking members of the association expect everyone to cooperate in keeping the Recreation Room an attractive and comfortable place for relaxation and fellowship.

Class Activities A-Plenty

Early in the year each class gets together and elects its officers. At the same time two faculty members are nominated for sponsors by the class. These names are submitted to the President of the College who selects one to work with the class throughout the year.

About eight evenings each year are set aside for class hikes and parties. These and all other evening activities must come practically without exception only on Friday nights.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

President's Greeting

Three years ago the A. W. S. was organized at Seattle Pacific College to bring the women students into closer fellowship and provide for them better spiritual, educational, social and cultural opportunities. The friendship of dormitory girls with those living off the campus is an outstanding purpose of the club. Meetings are held every other Thursday with a program following lunch.

Several projects have been undertaken by the A. W. S. Among these are exchange lunches with dormitory women, etiquette forums, the sale of candy at basketball games, and the annual spring luncheon in honor of senior women.

All women on the campus automatically become members of the organization upon registration.

We're surely glad to have you with us this year at Seattle Pacific College and we're trusting that you are planning to put your whole life, with us, in service for the Master.

Yours in Him,
ESTHER BEKKER.
Extra-Curricular Activities

are an important part of a college education, not only because of the training received, but also because of the many friendships made during the worthwhile use of extra time. There are many fields open for participation, so look about and discover those which particularly interest you. Don’t make the error of attempting so much that nothing is done well, but try to do something really worthwhile in the fields you do choose. The following activities are awaiting your interest and consideration.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

From the time of the origin of the college, religion has played a vital part as an activity in the life of S.P.C. It has been the desire of the faculty and Christian students to make the Christian life so natural and winsome that all who come to the college will want to live it. Many calls come to the Department of Religion for Sunday school teachers, song leaders, choir members, leaders of youth groups, and other special services. If you have talent for this type of activity, get in touch with the Dean of the School of Religion. Last year about a hundred students carried on this work in many denominations in the city.
The Student Volunteers are a group of missionary-minded young people. Membership is not restricted to those who are definitely training for such a life work, but all who are interested in Christian service are invited. Meetings are held every Monday at 12:30. Special speakers who are home on furlough from various missions are often secured to give information and inspiration concerning particular needs. As a project for the past year, the group undertook the responsibility of two services a month at the Olive Branch Mission.

To the Ministerial Association

the city of Seattle offers many opportunities for Christian service. Some ministerial students fill regular preaching appointments, and others occupy pulpits on demand. Other activities of this group include Sunday School work and preaching in missions.

MUSIC ACTIVITIES

S. P. C. offers many opportunities for those interested in music. In addition to the regular curricular offerings, opportunity is given early in the year to try out for various vocal organizations and groups. Some of these activities—both curricular and extra-curricular—are described below.

The College Chorus

is the largest musical organization in school. Membership is open to all students. The Christmas presentation of Handel’s Messiah and the spring concert are among the activities of the group. The chorus meets one evening each week, and a credit of one-half hour per quarter is given.

An A Cappella Choir

makes extensive and detailed study of choral music. The limited membership is chosen by special try-outs from a large group of applicants. Several extended tours are made each year, in addition to numerous local appearances. The choir meets three afternoons each week. A credit of one hour per quarter is given.
The Male Quartets

are outstanding among the musical groups at S. P. C. Tryouts for the Victory and Clarion Quartets are held early in the year—and competition is keen for these choice positions. The "Victory Boys" have earned an enviable reputation throughout the Northwest and are in constant demand for services every weekend. A large contribution to the radio "Fellowship Hour" is the singing of the quartet each week. The Clarions, a junior quartet, are also kept busy in similar types of service.

The Girls Glee Club

is composed of girls who sing for the pleasure music affords. Tryouts are held for membership.

An Orchestra

provides training for those who desire experience in instrumental music. Practicing twice a week, the group presents a number of concerts each year. One hour of credit is given for each quarter. In addition to the orchestra, a number of smaller ensembles often appear in public performance.

From the Pep Band

comes music for athletic events and student body rallies. The membership is chosen from students interested in this type of school service.

A number of afternoon and evening recitals are given each year by students in the school of music. At the annual spring recital several students and organizations are presented.
FORENSICS

The forensic department of Seattle Pacific College has been recognized for some time as outstanding. A year ago the most prominent national forensic honorary organization, Pi Kappa Delta, deemed the S.P.C. to membership as the Washington Beta Chapter. Last year, two of the S.P.C. debaters, Elsie Somerton and Phoebe Peterson, won the first-place award in debate at the Provincial Tournament of Pi Kappa Delta, held at Stockton, California.

Debate and oratory are the chief forensic activities, but great interest is also shown in impromptu, extemporaneous, and after-dinner speaking, and in round-table discussions. Previous experience is not necessary to enter this field. Public speaking courses are offered for those interested, and the Forensic Club which meets once a week, frequently witnesses good-natured but heated controversy. After a few weeks of training, the inexperienced are given a taste of tournament competition against those in their own class, usually at Tacoma, Seattle College, or with teams visiting this school. Individual excellence and service are rewarded by membership in the local chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, with the privilege of participating in larger and more distant tournaments, such as those at Linfield, Stockton, and Missoula.

Closely related to forensics is the field of dramatics. A number of courses are offered which make it possible for the student to discover and develop talent. Occasionally short tours are taken by a cast of players who present to appreciative groups some plays of moral value. Climaxing the year of dramatics is a series of student-directed plays in the spring, in which there is keen interest.

PUBLICATIONS

For those who are interested in obtaining experience in the field of journalism there are several opportunities. First, there are courses offered in the English department which give a foundation for journalism. Practical experience is gained through work on The Falcon, a weekly newspaper published by the Associated Students. The professional staff is selected by the editor. If you have had previous experience, and are interested in this activity, get in touch with Evelyn Larson, who is editor for the coming year.

The Cascade, year book of Seattle Pacific College, offers interesting work in both editing and business management. The staff this year is to be headed by Elmer Parsons. While a comparatively small editorial staff is used, the success of the year book depends upon the entire student body. Work is begun early. The Cascade is a diary in pictures and writing of the entire school year.
ATHLETICS FOR ALL

Seattle Pacific College has an extensive intramural athletic program which provides the highest type of good, clean competition. Every student, regardless of ability or previous experience, is given an opportunity to participate in several different sports throughout the year. The athletic program is as follows:

TOUCH FOOTBALL. A league of six seven-man teams is the principal fall activity. The elimination of tackling reduces the hazard for injury and promotes skill in the various departments of the game.

VOLLEYBALL. With such a keen interest taken in volleyball, outside courts have been constructed. This game calls for good team play rather than for individual performances.

BASKETBALL. Varsity. The varsity basketball team is composed of outstanding players selected from the various classes. To be eligible, men must have maintained a 2.00 average during the previous quarter. Competition is provided by commercial, church and club teams in Seattle and other nearby cities.

Intramural. The four classes carry out a schedule of basketball games which consist of three rounds of play.

Independent leagues. For those who like to play basketball but are not able to play on the class or weekly teams, this league is organized. The fun of playing is enjoyed by twenty or thirty boys in this division.

SOFTBALL. In the spring, the softball league gives opportunity for everyone to participate. Each class enters one team in the competition.

TEENIS. Two tournaments are conducted in this sport. In one, each class enters a team of four players who compete for class supremacy. The other, an individual tournament open to all students, is conducted for the purpose of selecting the college champions.

TRACK AND FIELD DAY. On this day each class strives for victory in the track and field events. The meet is held on one of the local playgrounds near the school.

OTHER SPORTS: Individual ability is developed in tournaments in such sports as archery, handball, ping pong, and horseshoes.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

S.P.C. presents a full program of athletics for all women desiring to participate. One team sport is conducted each quarter, with one team representing each class. Volleyball is played in the fall quarter; basketball, in the winter; and baseball, in the spring.

Besides these team sports, there are such individual sports as tennis, ping pong, and archery.

No scholarship standard is set for participation in these activities, but a grade score of 1.75 must have been earned in preceding quarter if points are to be awarded according to the newly adopted awards system.

Women's athletics are carried on under the supervision of the A.W.S. Each year the group elects an athletics director who arranges for practices and tournaments. Friendship, sportsmanship, and health are the primary aims of this activity.
DORMITORY ASSOCIATIONS

The men's and women's dormitory organizations are known as the Alexianrians and Pi Mu Gammas respectively. Officers for these clubs are elected during the spring quarter to serve for the following year. Exchange parties, a Christmas dinner and breakfast, the men's stag dinner, and the women's banquet are events sponsored by these groups. The Pi Mu Gammas also serve a tea each spring for girls who live outside the dormitory.

THE FALCONETTES

The Falconette Club is an upper-class women's honorary, which was organized in 1936. The club consists of college women who have been outstanding in scholarship, character, and extra-curricular activities. The purpose of the club is to render service in the various fields of college life, to promote a wholesome social atmosphere, and to encourage its members to a higher level of Christian womanhood.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

Discussion of vital world problems.
with a clearer understanding in view is the aim of the International Club. Meeting each Wednesday noon, this club has become one of the most active on the campus. Representatives are sent each year to the Northwest Regional Conference of International Clubs. Advisers are Miss Nelson and Miss Weter.

STATE CLUBS

Epsilon Alpha Sigma (the Eastern Club) , the Sodak (South Dakota) Clubs, the Oregon Club, and the California Club are composed of students from various geographical sections of the country. They serve the double purpose of creating a bond between the members and boosting S. P. C. in the home states.

RELIGIOUS CLUBS

The Student Volunteers and the Ministerial Club are mentioned in the section on Activities.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

If you study French, join Le Cercle Francais, or if you elect German, get acquainted with the German Club.

Le Cercle Francais

The objectives of the French Club are to become more proficient in conversational French, and to increase knowledge of French culture, current events, and customs. An interesting French Club Handbook was edited by Le Cercle Francais during the past year. The French Club Banquet is an annual event sponsored by Le Cercle Francais. One year of college French or two years of high school study are required for membership. Mrs. Kendrick is adviser for the club.

Deutsche Verein

The German Club, of which Miss Martin is adviser, has emphasized discussions of Germany's cultural contributions to the world and has promoted a special interest in the use of the German language. Meetings are held the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

SCIENCE CLUBS

The Pre-Med Club is an organization of students interested in medicine. The club program is an endeavor to bring before the group topics of current interest in medical science. Several parties and an early morning breakfast at Schmidt Park are sponsored by the club each year.

The Nurses’ Club has been organized for two years on the campus. Membership is open to students who are interested in nursing as a profession. Dr. McMillan is adviser for both the Pre-Med and the Nurse Club.

CHESS CLUB

Inspired by the playing technique of Dr. Kendrick’s husband, the Chess Club was originated with fifteen members last year. The players meet once a week for practice.

When You Plan a Social Affair—for any class or group, follow this procedure:

1. Social committee of group advises with sponsor as to location and nature of the function.
2. Proposals are considered by the group as a whole.
3. Committees are appointed to plan details.

4. Application blank is secured from the chairman of the faculty social committee. This is filled out and signed by the class officers and sponsor and presented to the faculty social committee chairman not later than Wednesday preceding the proposed function.

5. Fees to cover expenses are collected by the treasurer unless this is already cared for by dues.

6. When at least two-thirds of the group have paid their fees, final arrangements are made.

The opportunity for wholesome social contacts in an environment distinctly Christian is one of the greatest privileges of S.P.C. students. Obviously the standards of a college of this type must differ widely from those of schools where less emphasis is placed upon the religious life of the students.

It has been a custom to open or close social affairs with prayer. Any function where this cannot consistently be done is not consistent with the ideals of this school.
Dignity and decorum are definitely out of place at a basketball game. The man worth while must be able to do a lot more than smile when rooting for the Falcons. The organized yells of a good rooting section give real support to a fighting team. Here are some of the yells you will want to know:

Stutter Yell
F-A! F-A! F-A-L-C-
C-O! C-O! C-O-N-S!
F-A-L-C-O-N-S!
Falcons! Falcons!
FALCONS!!

Your Pep
Your PEP! Your PEP!
You got it, now keep it!
Now don’t you dare lose it!
Your PEP! Your PEP!
(Repeat several times as a chant)

Maroon and White
Maroon and white fight! fight!
Maroon and white fight! fight!
Who fights?
We fight!
Maroon and white fight! FIGHT!
—51—
1-2-3-4
One-two-three-four
Three-two-one-four
Who for? Why for?
Falcons! Falcons! FALCONS!

Onward Falcons

(To be sung to the tune of "On Wisconsin" as the Falcons come on the floor)
Onward Falcons, onward Falcons: fight right down the floor.
Throw the ball into the basket; let's run up the score!
Onward Falcons, onward Falcons: fight for your good name.
Fight fellows, FIGHT! FIGHT! FIGHT!
We'll win this game!

Alma Mater

'Midst the mountains of the Westland,
Near the rolling sea.
Beacon light that shineth ever
Is our S. P. U.
Chorus:
Join the chorus, waft it onward,
Until all shall see,
Standing true amid all others,
Dear old S. P. C.
Light thou sheddest on our pathway,
—52—

Lessons learned of thee;
In our hearts we'll ever cherish
Thoughts of S. P. C.
Alma Mater, kindest mother,
May thy children be Faithful sons and truest daughters
Of old S. P. C.
